

Warriors lose shooting touch vs. La Salle

Saturday's high school sports highlights
Centerville's beats Trotwood-Madison in district final | Photos | Video
Madison girls out | Photos
Fairmont falls again | Photos

By Chick Ludwig
Staff Writer

Sunday, March 15, 2009

DAYTON — That wasn't a misprint in Wayne's box score against the La Salle Lancers on Saturday night.

Wayne sophomore guard Travis Trice II had an uncharacteristic and unbelievable "O-fer," getting shut out in the Warriors' 68-64 loss to La Salle in a Division I district championship game at UD Arena.

Trice, who averages 15.1 points, was 0-for-11 from the field, 0-for-1 at the foul line for Wayne (18-6).

La Salle (22-2) will face Centerville (21-3) in a regional semifinal at Xavier University's Cintas Center on Wednesday, March 18, at 8 p.m.

"Our game plan was to stop (Trice) — keep the pressure on him and wear him down," said 5-foot-6 senior dynamo Jordan Crawford, who led four Lancers in double figures with 20 points. "We wanted to welcome them to the GCL and show them how we play."

And that is?

"Rough," Crawford said.

Jordan Bazile erupted for a game-high 23 points and single-handedly kept Wayne in the game.

"I never in a million years would have seen this coming," Wayne coach Travis Trice said about the first scoreless game of his son's high school career.

"It's not fair it happened to him. It's going to be a rough summer. He's got a lot of work to do."

Princeton 63, Mason 40: The Vikings (22-1) scored the first eight points, led 23-5 and dismantled the Comets (14-9).

Jordan Siebert and Orlando Williams scored 18 and 11 points for the Vikings, who face Aiken in a regional semifinal at the Cintas Center on Wednesday, March 18, at 6:15 p.m.

Luke Sutphin led the Comets with 13 points.

Aiken 63, Moeller 59: Darren Goodsen's "double-double" (15 points and 10 rebounds) led the Falcons (16-7), who used a 13-2 run to turn a 49-47 deficit into a 60-51 lead with 45.4 seconds to go. Brian Vonderhaar paced three Crusaders in double figures as Moeller finished 20-3.

Aiken's 6-foot-7 Chane Behanon, the consensus No. 1-ranked sophomore in Ohio, had 13 points, six rebounds and two blocked shots.

St. Xavier 57, Fairmont 42: Erik Stenger scored 19 points as the Bombers (14-9) built a 20-point lead and cruised into the Columbus regional.

Mark Shadowens' 10 points led the Firebirds (15-9). Fairmont reeled off eight straight points in the third quarter to pull within 30-19, but Xavier was too much.